

Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm writing to express my interest in the Graphic Designer position at your company that is currently open. I am excited to join your team and contribute my design, cartography, typography, and layout skills, as well as my ability to strategically interface and brainstorm with various project leads and re-articulate complex business issues to improve audience understanding.

I am proficient in design software such as Figma. In addition, I am skilled at PowerPoint presentations and interactive digital communication, as well as adapting existing creative communication to new formats. I understand design principles and have the ability to create appealing designs for websites, branded mockups, and aesthetic maps.

I also understand how to create visually appealing graphics that effectively communicate complex business issues and am familiar with the graphical standards of all major social media platforms. I am an excellent communicator who works well under pressure and meets tight deadlines.

I am thrilled at the prospect of bringing my skills and experience to your organization, and I am confident that I would be an excellent addition to your team. I would appreciate the opportunity to speak with you further about the position.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my application. I eagerly await your response.

Sincerely,
Alex Okumu
